WORKING HERE...

Charlene Scott
Senior Manager, Tax

I came to KPMG open about my sexual orientation and found the firm to be accepting without question.

KPMG's openness and acceptance provides me with an environment where I am not afraid to be who I am which rewards me both professionally and personally.

Phil Beckett
Senior Consultant, Health,
Ageing & Human Services

I was only 16 years old when I signed my contract at KPMG in Perth and 17 years old when I started working in 2009.

Depending when you come out, these can also be formative years. They were for me. It probably wasn't until the latter part of my Cadetship where I felt somewhat comfortable in disclosing my sexuality and relationships to colleagues.

Since then, I have only encountered openness and acceptance. More than that, I have been able to engage in driving a focus on diversity and inclusion within the firm.

While there is always room to improve the culture of an organisation, I feel encouraged to work in an organisation where it is a clear focus.
