Welcome

It gives me great pleasure to present the third edition of the Australian National LGBTI Recruitment Guide 2015 - 2016.

This guide has been developed with two significant aims in mind: to assist lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and intersex graduates and jobseekers find LGBTI inclusive employers; and to showcase those organisations actively engaged in LGBTI inclusion initiatives via their Pride in Diversity membership.

Workplace inclusivity and corporate social responsibility are now high on the list of key employer differentiators for job seekers regardless of how they personally identify. While each of the employers within this guide may be at different stages of their LGBTI inclusion journey, you can be guaranteed that through their Pride in Diversity membership, they are actively engaging with us to ensure that they are, or continue to be organisations in which you can truly be yourself; valued not only for the individual contribution that you make, but the diversity that you bring.

We encourage job seekers to regularly visit our recruitment pages to view current vacancies of Pride in Diversity member organisations and to view the full profiles of current member organisations.

In closing, I would like to specifically thank PwC for sponsoring this edition of the ANRG. Without sponsorship, the printing and distribution of this publication would not be possible.

For more information on this guide, its distribution or the employers listed, please contact the Pride in Diversity office on (02) 9206 2139.

Dawn Hough
Director, Pride in Diversity
Welcome from Sponsor

It is a great honour to sponsor this year’s edition of the Australian National LGBTI Recruitment Guide.

At PwC we’re committed to creating a diverse and inclusive workforce. To this end we are really proud that PwC has been named Australia’s 2015 employer of the year for workplace support for LGBTI people. This is the second time we have won the honour and the fourth time we have achieved top 10 employer status.

More importantly though, it was great to see approximately 60 companies participating in the Australian Workplace Equality Index this year. The growing level of participation is a great sign for LGBTI job seekers, as it is an indication of the commitment more and more businesses are making to LGBTI equality and inclusion.

As a job seeker, you should approach every interview with confidence, be yourself and don’t let any concerns about your LGBTI status affect your performance. We hope that the Q&A included in this guide with Deb Eckersley, our managing partner in Human Capital and Mike Bellemore, a Consultant in our Private Clients business can answer some of your questions and help you to find the right employer.

Suzi Russell-Guilford
LGBTI Network Partner Sponsor, PwC
Finding the Right LGBTI Employer

If you are reading this guide, you are probably looking to start a career or find a role with an inclusive LGBTI employer. As Australia’s top LGBTI employer, we asked Deb Eckersley, PwC’s Managing Partner, Human Capital and Mike Bellemore, a Consultant in the PwC Private Clients team to answer the questions we most hear from people looking for roles.

Mike Bellemore and Deb Eckersley

Deb, what are some positive indications of inclusion that LGBTI job seekers can look for in a potential employer?

LGBTI job seekers should search out companies that believe in a diverse workforce and have strategies in place to achieve this at every level of their company. I would recommend checking out if a potential employer is a member of Pride in Diversity, or has content on their website talking about diversity. Other positive indications include whether or not they have taken an organisational stand on issues such as Marriage Equality, or the CEO and leadership have given speeches on inclusion.

Mike, how can you check if an employers really is LGBTI friendly?

You can look through Pride in Diversity’s Annual Recruitment Guide as a starting point and cross reference that with the AWEI results of the most LGBTI-friendly organisations in Australia. It’s worth checking the websites of companies you’re interested in as well to see what policies they have and whether they refer to sexual orientation, gender identity and intersex status. I’d also recommend asking your own network what they think about an organisation especially if your contacts work at the same employers you’re interested in!
Finding the Right LGBTI Employer

Deb, are there questions that LGBTI identifying candidates should ask in an interview?

Approach every interview with confidence, be yourself and don’t let any concerns affect your performance. To ensure a company aligns with your values, I think it’s important to ask about the organisation’s culture. You could ask specifically about the organisation’s diversity and inclusion strategy, any recent achievements in this area and even about whether there are employee networks that you could join.

Deb, how can you answer questions that may be uncomfortable to answer such as are you married, or who do you live with?

You could respond with gender neutral pronouns, for example, in describing your partner or spouse. If the question doesn’t leave room for this, you could gently correct the interviewer or ask why the question is relevant to the role. HR professionals are well versed in the requirements of the Equality Acts and would be well aware that some questioning, like asking about your marital status is inappropriate.

Mike, should you disclose your sexual orientation, gender identity or intersex status throughout the recruitment process?

Some employers will actually now ask for diversity demographics as part of the employment process. But it’s up to you whether or not to disclose your sexual orientation or intersex status – it’s a personal decision. In my opinion, being open and honest can only work in your favour. If the employer does not ask, I think the context in which you choose to disclose (if at all) is important. If it’s relevant and part of flowing conversation then why not! They want you to be yourself after all. I recommend asking yourself beforehand how important it is to you that you disclose. If it’s very important, then absolutely make a point to disclose.
Deb, what are your options if you feel that you have been discriminated against throughout the recruitment process?

The first thing to say is that it is obviously illegal. National and state laws cover equal employment and anti-discrimination in the workplace. HR professionals would naturally take these issues seriously, and they would much rather you raised them at the time, and see if they can resolve them. With anything related to your career, take these matters seriously.

Mike, how can you get involved in LGBTI initiatives when you start in an organisation?

Most employee led networks have a mailing list or group on the intranet where you can be sent or access information. I would recommend seeking these out upon joining a company and keeping an eye out for the next event or call for volunteers. Go along to a meeting or event to meet the organisers and consider if you’d like to get involved. The more you put into an organisation, the more you get out of it. My involvement with GLEE@PwC has led me to meet some wonderful people, had exposure to the leadership team, and received an Inclusion award. None of which would have been possible if I didn’t have a go and get involved!

WHO WE ARE
ANZ is a super regional bank, providing the scale and quality of a global business to customers in our core markets of Australia, New Zealand, Asia and the Pacific. In order to achieve our goals, we need to nurture great people. That’s why we’ve made it our business to be an organisation where people want to work and can reach their full potential. Wherever we operate, we want our customers to experience great service from us, and this means we need to attract and develop the best connected and most respected people as part of the ANZ team.

MORE ABOUT US
ANZ offers a career like no other financial institution can – unique access to careers across Australia, New Zealand, Asia and the Pacific. We’re exploring new and better ways to progress the business with energy and enthusiasm. Connected by integrity and clarity of strategy, there is a real sense of excitement about the future. The possibilities are endless. It’s a place where the determined can succeed, the willing can grow and together, we can prosper.

By joining one of Australia’s top graduate employers, you’ll benefit from all the rewarding experiences and guidance you’ll need for a thriving career. What’s more, you’ll receive feedback, support and advice from your manager as well as build on your personal networks across the bank. It’s simple. We’re here to give you all the encouragement, guidance and experiences you’ll need to make the smartest move – for you.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
ANZ is creating a truly vibrant and inclusive workforce. In order to better understand the needs of our customers, we need the range of experiences, perspectives and backgrounds that only a diverse workforce can bring. Everyone at ANZ has the opportunity to progress, regardless of race, gender, age, disability, culture, or sexual orientation. While we value academic achievement we’re also genuinely interested in what makes you unique. We expect the highest standards of customer focus, ethics and integrity and in return we help our people to develop and progress their careers with us.

Aside from careers in banking and finance, ANZ offers careers in areas as diverse as information technology, marketing, human resources, operations and risk management, and we encourage our staff to explore careers across professional boundaries.

INSIDER INFO
At ANZ we are building a truly vibrant and inclusive workplace, where the diverse perspectives of all our employees are valued and respected. Our ANZ Pride Network for LGBTI employees and straight allies supports our diversity and inclusion initiatives. It provides advice on policies and processes, promotes activities within and outside our business and provides support to the LGBTI community and allies. We are proud to be recognised as a Gold Tier employer for LGBTI workplace inclusion by the Australian Workplace Equality Index.

In every area of ANZ that I have worked, I have been accepted and included. Never once have I felt that my sexuality has impeded my ability to perform my role or inhibited my career advancement.

Since I joined ANZ in 2008, I have seen support and public acceptance of LGBTI employees and customers grow. Our network has enabled me to meet new people from the LGBTI community with whom I work.

WHO WE ARE
Citi is one of the world’s largest, most established and most innovative financial services companies. We have a presence in more than 160 countries and jurisdictions and strive to create the best outcomes for our clients and customers with financial ingenuity that leads to solutions that are simple, creative and responsible.

MORE ABOUT US
Citi - Your Place is Here

We’ve built our foundation on 200 years of continuously evolving consumer, investment and corporate banking services. And today, our influence continues to grow serving the needs of approximately 200 million customer accounts. Our clients include some of the most prominent names in business as well as governments around the world. Our employees work across every time zone at the frontier of an ever-changing, and ever-challenging, global financial landscape.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
At Citi, we encourage applicants from all backgrounds. Apart from having a strong academic record, you must be a proactive and self-motivated individual, willing to take responsibility, enjoy new challenges and adapt to change. A financial background is not a must but you do need to possess solid analytical abilities, and be able to work under pressure on multiple tasks. Finally, we need people who thrive in a team environment, working together to achieve our goals. A passion for financial markets is essential for our intern and graduate roles.

INSIDER INFO
We pride ourselves on an inclusive work environment which promotes and encourages diversity. To support this, Citi Employee Networks have been established around the world as employee-initiated and led groups for professional development, mentoring, networking and community involvement. In 2015, we launched the Citi Pride Network in Sydney, our 15th Pride Network in the world.

"The acceptance of my whole self (including my idiosyncrasies!) was a pleasant surprise, and I have never been more open or supported in a workplace."

WORKING HERE...

Delia Deng
Compliance Analyst & steering committee member for the Citi Pride Network - Sydney

In a global firm, it is only natural to work in a team of people with diverse backgrounds. The acceptance of my whole self (including my idiosyncrasies!) was a pleasant surprise, and I have never been more open or supported in a workplace. Pioneering Citi’s new Pride Network in Sydney helped me realise and implement creative skills I didn’t think I would use, and introduced me to a group of inspiring employees I hadn’t expected to interact with until later in my career.
WHO WE ARE
As Australia’s leading financial services provider, at CommBank we never lose sight of the role we play in other people’s financial wellbeing.

We’re focused on attracting and retaining the best talent to our organisation – ambitious, driven, customer focused people who want to grow with us, as together we achieve our business goals.

Regardless of where you work at CommBank, your initiative, talent, ideas and energy all contribute to the impact that we can make with our work.

Together we can achieve great things.

MORE ABOUT US
As a Group, our focus is helping people and businesses move forward, to make the right financial decisions and achieve their goals and aspirations.

Globally, we offer outstanding service, advice and intuitive solutions to help customers manage their finances in the way they want to.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
Individuals that are passionate about securing and enhancing the financial wellbeing of people, business and communities. If you share our values of Integrity, Collaboration, Accountability, Excellence and Service, then CommBank is the employer for you.

INSIDE INFO
Our LGBTI Network: Unity
Unity is CommBank’s vibrant LGBTI community and allies network. The network works on initiatives to foster a culture of inclusion and respect, empowering our people to bring their whole selves to work each day – regardless of sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression.

Unity has had great success in raising LGBTI awareness and firmly entrenching itself across the Group, with networks established in every Australian state, as well as in New York, London, Hong Kong and Auckland. The network has also had some great success in their community initiatives, resulting in the Group becoming a Principle Partner of the Bingham Cup in 2014 and Principle Sponsor of The Pinnacle Foundation funding LGBTI students to study.

As a result, we are proud to be rated in the top 4 Australian organisations for LGBTI workplace inclusion in the 2015 Australian Workplace Equality Index by Pride in Diversity.

“Working in an organisation where I know that I can not only bring my whole self to work, but am encouraged to do so, is a career highlight for me. The Commonwealth Bank values the diversity of its employees and works very hard to ensure that the culture that is fostered is inclusive and authentic. By celebrating our employees’ diverse backgrounds, such as my sexual orientation and gender expression, our organisation is able to deliver quality products and services that match the diversity of our customer base, a mirror of our diverse nation.”
WHO WE ARE
Deutsche Bank is a leading client-centric global universal bank serving 28 million clients worldwide providing commercial and investment banking, retail banking, transaction banking and asset and wealth management products and services to corporations, governments, institutional investors, small and medium-sized businesses, and private individuals. Deutsche Bank is Germany’s leading bank, with a strong position in Europe and a significant presence in the Americas and Asia Pacific.

MORE ABOUT US
Deutsche Bank was first represented in Australia in 1973 and through rapid organic growth and strategic acquisitions has become one of Australia’s top investment banks with offices in Sydney, Melbourne and Perth.

Deutsche Bank work with sophisticated global clients, who expect our teams to reflect their own. This is why we are committed to nurturing our diverse culture. Through this we can generate better ideas and reach more balanced decisions. Diversity is at the heart of our values and beliefs. Our objective is for every employee to enjoy a prejudice-free working environment that values differences and rejects all forms of discrimination.

Join us and you will become part of a culture that nurtures talent, embraces diversity and rewards outstanding performance.

INSIDER INFO
Globally, 1 in 8 employees belongs to an employee network that supports diversity. Each network has a senior management champion who provides sponsorship and ongoing support.

dbPride is Deutsche Bank’s global LGBTI employee network and offers a supportive network for the LGBTI community and allies within the Bank. Its mission is to promote a diverse and inclusive work environment where employees can bring their whole self to work.

In Australia, dbPride regularly runs LGBTI education and awareness sessions and ally training sessions, as well as a range of events for members and employees. The Bank is active in the LGBTI community, supporting international awareness days and fundraising. Deutsche Bank is also a member of Pride in Diversity.
Diversity is celebrated annually at Deutsche Bank. In 2014, 20,000 employees from all regions and divisions took part in 250 events as part of Deutsche Bank’s fourth Global Diversity Week. The purpose of Diversity Week is to recognise the extraordinary diversity within the Bank and raise awareness of the importance of diversity and inclusion.

A commitment to inclusion and diversity is one of Deutsche Bank’s core values.

Phillip Kaufman
Vice President
Financial Control – Equities

A commitment to inclusion and diversity is one of Deutsche Bank’s core values. In my experience, the Bank works hard to create a diverse workforce and understands the benefits this brings to the organisation. I have had the opportunity to thrive at Deutsche Bank and my career progression has never been hindered as a result of my sexual orientation. Having recently become a father of twins, Deutsche Bank has supported my two dad family household with extended parental leave and I have been empowered to bring my true authentic self to the office where diversity is embraced and where I am able to reach my full potential.

I’ve never made a secret of who I am nor have ever felt the need to be anyone but myself. During my journey, there have been a lot of choices I’ve had to make, but being gay was not one of them. It defines what I am, but not who I am, nor what I am capable of achieving.

HSBC has a long and proud history of doing the right thing: by our people, our customers and our shareholders. With unprecedented levels of scrutiny within our industry, standing firm for what is right – regardless of pressure to act differently – is more important than ever. If we are serious in our journey of bringing these values to life, in particular what we say around diversity and inclusion then we must be visible in our efforts to ensure that everyone can bring their whole selves to work in order to be the best of themselves at work.

During my journey, there have been a lot of choices I’ve had to make, but being gay was not one of them.

WHO WE ARE
With over 150 years of history and experience behind us, we have grown to become a major financial services organisation providing products, advice and services through our major Australian franchise and businesses in the United Kingdom, New Zealand, the United States and Asia.

MORE ABOUT US
We believe in the potential of every one of our people, all of our customers, and the communities that we’re part of.

Our people are essential to our unique, aspirational culture. They’re part of a business that invests in development through The Academy, commits to flexibility and diversity, and engages with the community.

Everyone here has focus and passion, underpinned by a strong commercial and strategic approach.

Our purpose is to help our people and customers realise their potential.

Our corporate responsibility approach is founded on getting the fundamentals right for our customers, being a good employer and addressing our broader responsibility to society.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
We’ve worked hard to create our inclusive culture. Diversity is part of how we do business on a daily basis. We are committed to building a diverse and inclusive workforce to help us attract and retain talented people, create more innovative solutions, and be more flexible and responsive to customer needs.

INSIDER INFO
Pride@NAB, launched in 2012, is a NAB diversity initiative aimed at creating a safe and inclusive environment and providing a voice for LGBTI employees and their allies across NAB.

WORKING HERE...

Arjun Sudhir
Associate, NAB

There is a clear message at NAB from our senior leaders encouraging employees to be their authentic selves at work and let their unique qualities shine. I feel that this truly inspires a culture of diversity and inclusion at the workplace, allowing us to be the best version of ourselves. Having an initiative like Pride@NAB gives NAB the opportunity to show its support openly.

I have been a Pride@NAB member since I joined NAB about two years ago. Being a part of this community has given me the confidence to be open about my life outside of work and bring my full self to work. In addition to this, Pride@NAB has given me the opportunity to participate in a number of LGBTI events, including Midsumma and the Melbourne Pride March. This has helped me expand my involvement within the greater community and learn more about the issues the community faces. I am proud to work for a company that stands proudly beside its employees, regardless of their background and sexual orientation.
QBE Insurance

WHO WE ARE
QBE is one of the top 20 of the world’s insurers and reinsurers worldwide. We employ over 17,000 people in 38 countries and have a presence in all of the key global insurance markets. As a member of the QBE Insurance Group, QBE Australia is in the business of managing risk. Our ability to satisfy our customers’ risk management needs is at the heart of what we do.

MORE ABOUT US
We continue to develop our ability to deliver a broad competitive product range, high levels of service, in particular claims service, and a degree of flexibility our competitors find difficult to match. From home and contents, motor and travel insurance to cover for mining companies, universities, cargo ships and wineries, we aim to make things possible in the communities in which we operate. Our vision to be the most successful global insurer and reinsurer can only be achieved if our people feel motivated, valued and rewarded in their work. We are committed to helping our employees reach their full potential for the benefit of themselves and QBE, and we understand the importance of rewarding people for their performance.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
At QBE our people are selected for their ability, experience, potential and ‘make it happen’ attitude. We view our people as our most precious asset and believe diversity and inclusion is essential for a strong and successful company. Our broad and diverse business means we look for people with a range of skills and backgrounds in areas such as Claims, Underwriting, Finance, Sales, IT, Professional Support and Corporate Support.

INSIDER INFO
At QBE, we believe diversity and inclusion is essential for a strong and successful business, and we aim to create a workplace which is representative of our wider community. We are the proud recipients of the Australian HR Awards Employer of Choice in the greater than 1,000 employees category and the Best Workplace Diversity and Inclusion Program for 2015. Our employee resource group, QBE Pride, is active in promoting and celebrating diversity at QBE. QBE Pride aims to facilitate an open and safe culture for everyone, part of which involves educating our leaders and employees about LGBTI inclusion in the workplace.
In my six years at QBE, I’ve been fortunate to be a part of a highly effective legal team led by a manager who sees the value in our people and who understands our team’s effectiveness is enhanced by being diverse and inclusive. I’ve been fortunate to have opportunities and support, which may not have been available to other LGBTI people. I’m proud to be part of an organisation that creates a safe and empowering workplace for all LGBTI employees.

WORKING HERE...

Sam Turner
Chair, GLOBAL and NSW State Operations Manager, Retail Banking

Everyone has the right to feel comfortable at work and to feel included in work-life conversations and culture. Groups such as GLOBAL provide opportunities for employees to become more involved in events and networking with like-minded people, but also to educate and raise awareness of key issues that affect LGBTI people and their families. This is something that might not otherwise happen without GLOBAL. I believe that corporates have a responsibility to help shape and drive behaviour within broader society, and that this should be as open and inclusive as possible.

At Westpac, I feel that I am able to express myself openly and freely, flexible work options provide me with mobility and opportunity, and career development is abundant. Opportunities are here if I want them - Westpac Group enables me to feel fully supported in my career endeavours.
WHO WE ARE
We’re a New South Wales based health promotion organisation specialising in HIV prevention, HIV support and lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and intersex (LGBTI Health). Established in 1985 as the AIDS Council of NSW, we’re here to end HIV transmission among gay and homosexually active men, and promote the lifelong health of LGBTI people and people with HIV.

MORE ABOUT US
We’re Here for HIV Prevention
Advances in HIV testing and treatments mean we can end HIV transmission in NSW by 2020, but only if gay men test more, treat early and stay safe. We’re here to help them do this through a range of campaigns, education and support services.

We’re Here for HIV Support
Over 12,000 people in NSW live with HIV. We’re here to help people with HIV take control of their health, as well as the health of their partners, by providing up-to-date information as well as a range of programs and services.

We’re Here for LGBTI Health
Over 500,000 LGBTI people live in NSW and tens of thousands more visit every year.

We’re here to help LGBTI people take control of their health and wellbeing so they can look after themselves as well as their partners, family and friends.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
We want to attract people who share our commitment to the clients and communities we serve and are passionate about improving the health and wellbeing of people with HIV and the LGBTI community. We employ people from all walks of life – health, counselling, finance, social work, communications, marketing, community development and many others. The important thing is a shared goal of ending HIV and advocating to overcome the barriers to delivering better health outcomes for LGBTI people and people with HIV.

INSIDER INFO
Celebrating 30 years of providing services to the LGBTI community, ACON’s core values are still centred around the basic recognition of human rights for all. Saro Mugnaini
General Manager VIP Marketing International

“I initially joined the company in 1997 as a front line employee in an exciting and fast-paced business, and have enjoyed a fulfilling and rewarding career so far. Since then, I have taken on many roles in our business and now manage an international team of employees based throughout Asia.

As a senior leader of the organisation I recognize the importance of a workplace that needs to reflect the diversity of the population by creating a culture where all team members can bring their true selves to work. I also strongly believe it is important to provide role models, in particular for LGBTI youth, and to this extent I am actively involved in our LGBTI employee network group Pride@Echo. I am passionate about diversity in all its facets and cherish the ability to practice this on a daily basis in my career at Echo Entertainment.”
WHO WE ARE
Envato is the world’s largest creative ecosystem. Our 5.5 million community members comprise a marketplace, learning platform and talent network for creative digital projects.

MORE ABOUT US
An Australian, family business headquartered in Melbourne, we’re a world leading digital company specialising in digital assets - website themes, video, audio, effects, graphics and more. Our marketplace is the most visited Australian-owned website on the planet and we’ve paid out more than $300 million to our community. SEEK Limited

WHO WE ARE
SEEK has evolved from being a domestic online employment classifieds business, to the largest global online marketplace, operating in 12 countries. SEEK is a diverse group of companies, encompassing a strong portfolio of businesses including SEEK Learning, SEEK Commercial and SEEK Volunteer.

MORE ABOUT US
We believe the key to our success is creating a work environment which is challenging, rewarding and inclusive. We are committed to making a difference to our community as well as to our company.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
We look for talented people who share 3 common traits:

Passion – for SEEK and our customers. It’s the passion for making SEEK better than it was yesterday that makes our people unique and allows us to achieve great outcomes for our customers.

Judgement & Decision Making – knowing when to think, when to act, and when and how to consult others. It’s also about learning from mistakes when we don’t get the outcome we’re after.

Know their stuff – SEEKers want to continually develop their professional and technical skills in their field of expertise and are hungry to learn more.

INSIDER INFO
SEEK supports, and is committed to, diversity in all its forms. The SEEK Inclusion Council is a committee made up of employees who aim to ensure SEEK remains an industry leader in providing an inclusive environment, where individuals feel valued for their talent and free to reach their full potential.

SEEK continues to be an advocate and participant in the ‘It Gets Better’ project, and this year was incredibly proud to support and promote equal opportunity through the sponsorship of ‘Bridegroom’ – a heartfelt documentary on marriage equality.

I have been lucky enough to work for SEEK for over 7 years and have been accepted and never had to think twice about being exactly who I am since day one. We have a very diverse workforce, in my observation being an open and accepting workplace is just a natural part of SEEK’s DNA.

What I like here at SEEK is that it’s a bunch of passionate people from all levels wanting to do more in this space, it’s not simply trying to tick the box or doing ‘the minimum’.

I have approached our Executive team to support a couple of initiatives and not only did they agree to put our big brand behind it, they were genuinely excited and asked ‘what more can we do’.

WHO WE ARE
ASIC is Australia’s corporate, markets and financial services regulator.

We contribute to Australia’s economic reputation and wellbeing by ensuring that Australia’s financial markets are fair, orderly, transparent and efficient, supported by confident and informed investors and consumers. We are an independent Commonwealth Government body.

MORE ABOUT US
ASIC’s strategic priorities are:

- Promoting investor and financial consumer trust and confidence;
  » education – investor responsibility for investment decisions remains core to our system. We empower investors and financial consumers through our financial literacy work
  » gatekeepers – we will hold gatekeepers to account
  » consumer behaviour – recognising how investors and consumers make decisions

- Ensuring fair, orderly, transparent and efficient markets:
  » achieved through our role in market supervision and competition, and corporate governance

- Providing efficient and accessible registration:
  » with a focus on small business and deregulation

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
ASIC aims to have a workplace where diversity is embraced and all our people, our stakeholders and our communities are treated with fairness and respect.

A diverse and inclusive workforce drives better innovation, creativity and problem-solving capability as well as individual and organisational productivity.

We want to attract people who share our commitment to our values of Accountability, Professionalism and Teamwork.

These values guide the way we work, the way we make decisions and how we interact with each other and our customers.

INSIDER INFO
ASIC has a long commitment to diversity within its workforce. We recently established the ASIC Rainbow Network which seeks to promote and raise awareness of LGBTI issues within ASIC.

The Rainbow Network is sponsored by Commissioner John Price who leads ASIC’s Diversity Council. The Diversity Council provides visible, strategic leadership on all ASIC’s diversity activities.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
We are looking for diverse individuals across a variety of disciplines, to work in our challenging and rewarding workplaces. If you are interested in contributing to a safe and secure, and culturally rich society, then we want you!

INSIDER INFO
The department has an active LGBTI Network for employees who identify as LGBTI and their supporters. The Network is led by employees and is strongly supported by the Corporate Division, executive leaders and the broad staff base. Our LGBTI Champion is a visible supporter of LGBTI employees within the department. We are also a proud member of Pride in Diversity and work to support the visibility and representation of the LGBTI community within the department as part of our commitment to an inclusive and diverse workplace.

www.ag.gov.au
The LGBTI network shows support to people who identify and acts to promote awareness to the department so all employees feel comfortable bringing their whole self to work.

Jo Corcoran
Chief Information Officer

As an Executive Ally to the AGD LGBTI employee network, I see my role as ensuring the workplace experience of all staff is taken into account by working with the LGBTI Champion and the wider department to encourage and promote an inclusive workplace. Through this role, and by listening to members of the network, I have gained a much greater understanding on how the day to day experience of LGBTI employees can affect their ability to contribute completely to the workplace. The LGBTI network shows support to people who identify and acts to promote awareness to the department so all employees feel comfortable bringing their whole self to work.
WHO WE ARE
The Australian Federal Police (AFP) is Australia’s Commonwealth primary law enforcement agency. Our vision is “to fight crime together and win”, and our mission is to provide dynamic and effective law enforcement to the people of Australia.

MORE ABOUT US
In addition to its Commonwealth law enforcement function, the AFP provides policy capability in the ACT and external Territories, assists international law enforcement and security agencies and participates in foreign peacekeeping activities.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR

WHO WE ARE
The Australian Government Department of Human Services is about people and connecting them to the services they may need at different stages of their lives. We develop service delivery policy and provide access to social, health and other payments and services, including through our three main programmes; Centrelink, Medicare and Child Support.

MORE ABOUT US
We touch the lives of almost every Australian and each year we deliver more than $140 billion in payments. Our services are provided through a variety of channels including digital, telephone and a network of over 400 service centres across Australia.

For more information, visit: www.humanservices.gov.au

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
The department is looking for enthusiastic individuals with a desire to improve the services we offer. We seek committed individuals with a strategic focus and an innovative mind who want to contribute to making a change in the lives of Australians through the provision of high quality services and payments.

INSIDER INFO
Our LGBTI Network provides:
• A confidential environment for staff to connect
• Updates on LGBTI initiatives
• A consultation forum to provide input into initiatives
• An opportunity to network with other LGBTI professionals via our membership with Pride in Diversity.

"The department is committed to workplace diversity and inclusion and providing equal access and opportunity to all people."

I’ve been working here for six years and feel included, accepted and able to be honest about who I am. Through the LGBTI network, I’m able to reach out to new staff who, like me, might be a little unsure of their place in such a large department. We also have LGBTI inclusion training to promote awareness and we celebrate important days such as International Day Against Homophobia and Transphobia empowering staff to take pride in who they are.

I’m proud and happy to be working here where we are creating a safe space for everyone.

Department of Human Services
WHO WE ARE
The Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet (PM&C) provides high quality advice and support to the Prime Minister, the Cabinet, Portfolio Ministers and Parliamentary Secretaries to achieve a coordinated and innovative approach to the development and implementation of Government policies. We also provide a Whole-of-Government perspective on policies and programmes on Indigenous advancement, deregulation and women’s policy.

MORE ABOUT US
PM&C has four groups — Domestic Policy; Governance; Indigenous Affairs; National Security and International Policy. The opportunities available range from economic, environmental and social policy, to foreign policy, trade and treaty matters, Indigenous specific policy and programmes, defence and counter-terrorism, corporate support, and parliamentary and government matters.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
PM&C provides opportunities to contribute to a wide range of national policy issues. We seek highly motivated, results-oriented individuals with strong communication skills and work ethic, who respond well to change and enjoy working in a fast-paced environment.

INSIDER INFO
PM&C fosters a diverse and inclusive workplace, where diversity is respected and celebrated. We are committed to ensuring all employees are supported to reach their potential and are empowered to be themselves. We are establishing an LGBTI Champion and an LGBTI Employee Network, open to any interested LGBTI employees and supporters, who work together to promote LGBTI inclusion.
Quick Facts

Where We Are
PM&C’s national offices are in Barton and Woden in Canberra and we operate from approximately 100 locations around Australia.

I have found the Australian Public Service to be a great employer for LBGTI employees over the nearly 20 years I have worked here...

I head the Schools, Information and Evaluation Division in the Indigenous Affairs Group. PM&C is a great place to work and somewhere good ideas and creativity are strongly valued. I have found the Australian Public Service to be a great employer for LBGTI employees over the nearly 20 years I have worked here, and my sexuality has not been an issue in any of the four departments I have worked. I have also managed to successfully combine parenthood and a rewarding career.

We are always looking for young talent, and what better job than providing advice and ideas to the Government of the day that can improve the lives of Australian people. I have also found Canberra a great place to live, once I learned to accept that it is not, and never will be, inner-city Sydney!

WHO WE ARE
We aspire to be Australia’s pre-eminent social policy agency. Our mission is to improve the lifetime wellbeing of people and families in Australia.

MORE ABOUT US
As the leading social policy agency for Australia our responsibilities are broad and cover the following subject areas:

• Families and children
• Housing support
• Seniors
• Communities and vulnerable people
• Disability and carers
• Women’s safety
• Mental health
• Settlement and multicultural affairs
• Ageing and aged care
• Review of Australia’s Welfare system.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
The department is seeking enthusiastic, motivated people who want to make a contribution to the delivery of Australia’s social policy agenda. If you are seeking to work for an organisation that values diversity and inclusion and truly wants to make a difference in the life of Australians then this is for you. Departmental roles are varied with a focus on improving the lifetime wellbeing of people and families in Australia. In your role, you can bring a Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Intersex (LGBTI) perspective to our policy and programmes and be part of a welcoming, supportive and inclusive workplace.

INSIDER INFO
The department has recently established the Staff Network for staff and allies of LGBTI staff. We have also welcomed our first two Senior LGBTI Champions for the department who will ensure there is a strong awareness and consideration of LGBTI diversity across the organisation.
The Department of Social Services (DSS) offers a challenging and meaningful career working at the center of the Australian Government’s social policy agenda.

The diversity of our staff is very important to us and we actively encourage applications from people with disabilities, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, LGBTI people and people with diverse linguistic and cultural backgrounds.
WHO WE ARE
The Australian Red Cross Blood Service is entrusted with the supply of Australia’s blood. We collect, test, process and distribute life-saving blood products. We also deliver world-class research and provide expertise in diagnostic, transplantation and other clinical services.

MORE ABOUT US
One in three Australians will need blood in their lifetime. Every year we collect 1.3 million blood donations thanks to our 600,000 voluntary donors. Our manufacturing centres then test, process and deliver the blood to hundreds of healthcare providers in Australia. The majority of blood collections are used by hospitals for treating people with cancers, blood disorders and those undergoing emergency surgery. Managing the country’s blood supply is a considerable task and our ongoing challenge is to ensure that blood products are efficiently collected and supplied at the right time and quality to meet demand.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
We are committed to having the right people, in the right job, at the right time. Each employee plays a vital role in the business of saving lives. We are dedicated to building a diverse and inclusive workforce who are customer-focused, adaptable and thrive within a culture of continuous improvement.

As an equal opportunity employer we value workplace diversity and welcome applications from all suitably qualified candidates from across Australia’s diverse communities, including the LGBTI community. Not everybody gets to contribute to life-saving work, but here at the Blood Service you can be proud that your work really matters.

INSIDER INFO
At the Blood Service we believe that diversity is more than just recognising difference - it is about leveraging difference and tapping into the diverse perspectives and approaches of each individual employee. We share a firm belief that people perform better when they can be themselves at work. Our employee network, GLOW (Gay, Lesbian and Other Workmates) is open to all employees, gay or straight, and is a place where people can show their support for LGBTI people at work.

Regional Administration Team Leader / GLOW Project Group Representative

My four years at the Blood Service have been a constant learning curve, with great career progression. I have been fortunate enough to work across three major divisions – Donor Services, Medical Services and now with the Manufacturing team. I’ve always been out at the Blood Service – sexuality is a non-issue for me at work. Our values of Integrity and Collaboration resonate particularly with me. It means that every day, we are open and honest, that we treat one another with dignity, courtesy and respect, and we celebrate and encourage diversity. This makes for a fantastic, safe workplace that I am proud to be a part of.
WHO WE ARE
At Medibank we are motivated by improving the health of all Australians and the health of our members. We are passionate about improving the performance of our health system and ensuring more affordable, quality healthcare for Australians that is sustainable in the long term.

Medibank’s core business is the underwriting and distribution of private health insurance policies through our two brands, Medibank and ahm.

We also provide a range of integrated healthcare services to our private health insurance policyholders, government, corporate and other retail customers.

Medibank’s headquarters are in Melbourne, Victoria, and we have operations throughout Australia and a presence in New Zealand.

MORE ABOUT US
From our core private health insurance retail business – supported by 88 retail stores and 29 clinics throughout Australia as at 23 June 2015 – to our complementary healthcare services, including life, pet and travel insurance, and telephone health lines, Medibank’s diverse business is aimed at improving the health of more people in more ways than ever.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
Bring your whole self to work, where we can be better together.

We set out each day with passion and pride to make a difference. We aim for an inclusive workplace where LGBTI employees feel welcome, safe and have the chance to flourish.

We collaborate as a group, in a supportive and diverse environment where we work better, for a common purpose and shared success.

At Medibank, we play an important role in the future of health and healthcare and make a difference to ‘better health’, for all.

Adding passion + possibilities to health.
A career at Medibank adds up to more. More achievement. More progress. More passion and more innovation for health.
INSIDER INFO
We are committed to ensuring that people feel safe at Medibank, regardless of their sexual orientation and commit to actively supporting the LGBTI community.

WHO WE ARE
Founded by the Australian Government in 1946 to apply the best minds to the biggest questions and advance Australia’s international standing, The Australian National University (ANU) has grown to become one of the world’s leading centres for research and education.

MORE ABOUT US
ANU scholars lead global thinking on issues of national and international significance, and our students go on to become leaders in their home countries and on the world stage.

The University’s reputation attracts people from around the world, with one third of our students and many staff coming from overseas.

ANU is located at the heart of the national capital, alongside foreign missions, the Australian Parliament, other national institutions, research organisations, and offices of government.

The main ANU campus sits on 145 hectares of parkland in the centre of Canberra, a ten minute walk from the thriving city centre.

Canberra is ranked as the number one place to live in the world according to the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
ANU takes pride in attracting and retaining the most outstanding staff. We look for excellence in staff who want to contribute in academic or professional opportunities. We value the diversity that our local and international staff contribute to making us Australia’s finest university.

INSIDER INFO
Our University community actively pursues the equity and inclusion of students and staff from all diversity groups. The University is working to increase LGBTI and Ally participation, networking and awareness training for staff. The ANU Gender Institute undertakes research, education and outreach on issues of gender and sexuality.
I have worked in a number of different areas in the University and have been able to talk openly about my life and partner, always being accepted by my colleagues.

Frank Gafa
HR Web & Systems Support Officer

I have been associated with the University for seven years, firstly as a student and now as a staff member and have always felt comfortable in being myself. As a student I was involved in many LGBTIQ events that were supported by the University, while also noticing the abundance of ALLY signs on staff members doors when walking to and from classes. As a staff member I have worked in a number of different areas in the University and have been able to talk openly about my life and partner, always being accepted by my colleagues.
WHO WE ARE
With the vision to change minds, lives and the world, Curtin is the largest and most multicultural university in Western Australia.

MORE ABOUT US
Curtin attracts more than 50,000 students from over 130 countries. With a vision to be an international leader in research and education, Curtin has several campuses worldwide.

Curtin is committed to providing a workplace that is inclusive and supportive. We respect and value the diversity of our staff. Curtin strives beyond legislative compliance to provide an environment in which all staff feel respected, valued, welcomed, and safe.

In 2015, Curtin’s continuous effort towards sustaining our inclusive workplace culture was again recognised by the Australian Workplace Equality Index (AWEI) as the highest ranking Australian University and ranked third nationally for LGBTI Workplace Inclusion. Curtin is also home to the inaugural 2015 Sapphire Inspire Award winner.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
Curtin hopes to attract and retain staff who share our vision, values and commitment to leadership, innovation and excellence. A highly multicultural university, we have a long-standing commitment to international and indigenous cultures. We’re confident you’ll find Curtin to be a warm and social workplace where everyone’s welcome.

INSIDER INFO
Curtin University adopted the Ally program to help staff, students and community members of diverse sexuality and gender identity feel welcome and supported to work and study at Curtin.

Maz Rahman
Administrative Support Officer

I started off at Curtin as a student involved in student representation, and eventually found myself working in the Ethics, Equity and Social Justice department for the university. So I’ve seen the impact of support and acceptance at Curtin from both sides of the fence. Despite being out for years, it still makes me smile when I see a rainbow sticker around the university, I can only imagine what it must feel like for someone who is still in the early stages of coming out.

Just being able to bring my whole self to work and study meant being more relaxed and focused on accomplishing goals, instead of worrying about censoring myself or feeling the need to conform to a certain image. Whether it’s not having to play the pronoun game while recanting my weekend adventures, being able to bring my partner to functions or something as simple as being able to adorn my desk with things that I’m passionate about, it just means my colleagues are able to meet the real me. It’s refreshing to not be judged on who I am, but rather messiness of my desk!
WHO WE ARE
Griffith University is one of Australia’s largest multi-campus universities and home to over 40,000 students. Our staff and students from 131 countries work and study across five networked campuses in South East Queensland, enjoying a truly international experience and a high standard of teaching and research across a full range of academic disciplines.

MORE ABOUT US
Our founders knew that the world would constantly change and that universities needed to equip their students with the skills to change with it. Today, we are a comprehensive university, teaching across our five campuses in all study areas. But we’ve never lost sight of our progressive beginnings. Everything we do – from education to research to community involvement – is designed to meet the new world that our students, graduates and communities will encounter. We aim to be a University where people want to work and equity has always been part of our ethos as an institution and an employer.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
Griffith employees contribute to the development of knowledge and learning in an attractive environment which values excellence, equity and diversity, continuous improvement and innovation. A variety of Academic and Professional staff roles are available.

INSIDER INFO

I really enjoy working at Macquarie University because of its conviction to generate a supportive and accepting environment. Staff and students of all sexualities are encouraged to join the Ally network and regular events celebrate sexual diversity in a fun and all-inclusive way.
The University of Queensland

WHO WE ARE
The University of Queensland (UQ) is one of Australia’s leading teaching and research universities. We strive for excellence through the creation, preservation, transfer and application of knowledge.
UQ is one of only three Australian members of the global Universitas 21, a founding member of the Group of Eight (GO8) universities, and a member of Universities Australia. For more than a century, we have educated and worked with outstanding people to deliver knowledge leadership for a better world.

MORE ABOUT US
UQ has a strong focus on teaching excellence and attracts the majority of Queensland’s highest academic achievers. It celebrates its 225,000 graduates as its greatest assets and works to build and maintain enriching relationships with these alumni.
In 2013, with grants totaling $381.8 million, UQ received more research income than any other university in Australia – a strong indication of the commitment and quality of our researchers.
Having invested substantially in construction and development, UQ is creating world-class environments in which to study, research and work, while demonstrating a commitment to sustainability through innovative design.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
The University of Queensland is committed to attracting high quality academic and professional staff who are passionate about the three pillars of the University; learning, discovery and engagement.
The University of Queensland is a large employer with a variety of roles available in both the academic and professional space. For opportunities currently available please see UQ Jobs here: http://jobs.uq.edu.au/caw/en/listing/

INSIDER INFO
The University of Queensland is committed to developing and maintaining a diverse and inclusive workplace for all staff. The University has a number of initiatives to help support staff who identify as LGBTI.
The UQ Ally program is an award winning program and sets out to develop a visible network of empathetic people who are allies of students and staff identifying as lesbian, gay, transgender, bisexual, or intersex (LGBT/I). Our Ally program creates a great networking initiative for staff and we have regular meetings and events to celebrate the LGBTI community. WHO WE ARE
The University of Sydney is one of the world’s leading, comprehensive research and teaching universities.

We make lives better not just by producing leaders of society, but through equipping our people so they can meaningfully serve all our communities at every level.

MORE ABOUT US
As a leader in tertiary education, we have been challenging traditions for more than 160 years. We were one of the first universities in the world to admit students solely on academic merit and to open our doors to women on the same basis as men. Today, we continue to embrace all aspects of diversity.

Our community consists of more than 50,000 students, approximately 10,000 academic and professional staff, and more than 300,000 alumni.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
The University of Sydney is a workplace brimming with inspiration, ideas and opportunities. We’re looking for people who bring passion to their work, want to follow their dreams and have an exciting career. We offer a diverse range of academic and professional roles for people with a desire to think, challenge, explore and transform.

INSIDER INFO
The University of Sydney Ally Network’s vision is to create a welcoming, safe and supportive environment for all students and staff who identify as LGBTIQ, and their supporters. We provide a visible network of designated allies who support our LGBTIQ community.
I am proud to be part of the work the University is doing to improve its LGBTIQ visibility and inclusion.

I have high expectations of the University to show real leadership on things that matter. This is why I’m invested in helping to make it a place that celebrates catering for the complexity of people’s experiences of sexuality and gender. I am proud to be part of the work the University is doing to improve its LGBTIQ visibility and inclusion. I joined the Ally Network through which I have met many other LGBTIQ folk as well as straight allies who are committed to making the University of Sydney a place of sustained, intersectional and robust engagement with diverse LGBTIQ experiences.
WHO WE ARE
Established in 1911, we are recognised internationally as an excellent, comprehensive research-intensive university. Our values-driven leadership, quality staff and exceptionally beautiful campus combine to offer a vibrant employment and student experience.

MORE ABOUT US
The University takes its social responsibility leadership role seriously, and has received many diversity awards, including being ranked by the Australian Workplace Equality Index as a Top 10 employer for LGBTI inclusivity for four consecutive years.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
We are committed to attracting staff passionate about and committed to delivering high quality educational services in a competitive international environment. We particularly value diversity and seek staff who demonstrate great attitude, a willingness to embrace change and the capacity to be intellectually and emotionally comfortable with difference.

INSIDER INFO
“The University aims to graduate students who are well placed to be the leaders of their chosen path. Modelling an inclusive workplace is one way in which we realise this aim. We provide our students with a broad educational experience that positions them to be citizens of the globe, intellectually and emotionally comfortable with difference. It is vital therefore that we focus on creating an inclusive campus where students and staff can be themselves and realise their full potential. Homophobia, transphobia and ignorance of the rights of others have no place in such a culture.”

WHO WE ARE
We are a multi-campus comprehensive university, based in the Illawarra Region. Throughout our 60-year history, we’ve built an international reputation for world-class research and exceptional teaching quality.

We aim to be recognised for academic excellence, with an impact extending beyond teaching and research. We are about knowledge, new thinking, making a tangible difference and connecting to the world.

MORE ABOUT US
Equity and social justice, mutual respect and collegiality, diversity of cultures, ideas and peoples are just a few of the core values by which the University of Wollongong operates.

In 2015 the Human Rights Commission ranked UOW as among the most LGBTI friendly Universities in Australia.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
We are seeking talented and dedicated academic and professional services staff who can work collaboratively for their own success and that of the institution. We’re committed to the growth and success of each employee so that we can sustain our culture of excellence and innovation. Importantly, staff will have the opportunity to really connect with the University community and contribute to its growth, direction and future successes.

INSIDER INFO
We are a place where all people can expect to study and work safely, free from discrimination, harassment or vilification.

In 2011 the University of Wollongong started the Ally Network, a network of allies consisting of students and staff supporting or identifying as LGBTI, which now boasts more than 120 members. Allies provide a safe and respectful environment to help make UOW a better place to work and study.

Because UOW is a regional university in an area that can still be challenging for LGBTI people, its role as a beacon of openness and support is particularly important.
WHO WE ARE
We are a leading international law firm, with partners, lawyers and corporate services across Asia and Australia.

Through an integrated alliance with Linklaters, we have a global network of 40 offices across 29 countries, including emerging markets in Africa, Asia and South America.

MORE ABOUT US
Working with many of the world’s best organisations, Allens lawyers combine technical excellence with commercial insight, taking the most complex questions and providing the clearest answers. Our services cover all commercial issues from acquisition finance to workplace relations.

Allens has some of the world’s longest ongoing client relationships, stretching back more than 150 years. It’s a fact of which we are immensely proud and one we never take for granted.

We work with many of the world’s leading organisations, including 55 of the world’s top 100 companies and more than 75 of Australia’s top 100 companies.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
There isn’t an ‘Allens type’ – the more you enjoy working with a variety of people, the greater your success. Diverse perspectives help solve complex problems. Teams are stronger, client relationships are richer and the firm is more interesting. We look for initiative, excellence, commerciality, resilience, intelligence and curiosity when recruiting for lawyers and corporate services staff.

INSIDER INFO
We formed an LGBTI network in 2011, which has since more than tripled in size, with participation from staff at all levels. Allens was the first law firm to become a member of Pride in Diversity. We actively engage with other LGBTI networks, particularly those of our major clients, and aim to increase that engagement continuously.

“As a junior lawyer, Allens’ commitment to promoting diversity in the workplace has been clear to me from day one. As a member of the firm’s LGBTI committee, ALL in, I’ve had unique opportunities for networking and even exposure to exciting legal work on LGBTI issues. I would recommend Allens to any LGBTI graduates or jobseekers searching for an inclusive and supportive work environment.”

Anesti Petridis
Lawyer
"I recommend Allens to any young lawyer looking to work in an environment that has a strong commitment to diversity."

WHO WE ARE
We are a leading international law firm that has been thinking globally in Australia for over 50 years. We act for leading multinational and domestic companies on market leading local and global transactions with more than 85 Partners and 190 lawyers across Sydney, Melbourne and Brisbane.

MORE ABOUT US
Founded in 1949, Baker & McKenzie is one of the world’s largest law firms by markets, revenue and headcount. We offer our clients and lawyers the uncompromising commitment to excellence expected of a leading firm and a distinctive way of thinking, working and behaving as a passionately global and genuinely collaborative firm.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
We look for people who enjoy a challenge and seek new opportunities; who share our global perspective and are practical in their approach; who like taking responsibility and getting things done; who express themselves confidently while staying open to new ideas; and who seek a friendly and inclusive culture that strives to make a difference to our local and global communities.

INSIDER INFO
• We are passionately global.
• We strive to stay ahead of the curve and encourage entrepreneurship.
• We have a strong culture of friendship and inclusion, and an egalitarian and collaborative working style.
• We are commercial pragmatists who make complex issues simple for our clients and we focus on our clients’ business needs.
• We actively encourage and support contribution to the community, through our pro bono and community service programs.

Our award-winning diversity strategy, initiatives and programs are focussed in four areas, in which all of our people can participate:

• BakerWomen - Gender equality and supporting the progression of women
• BakerDNA - Ethnic, indigenous and cultural diversity
• BakerBalance - Supporting carers and parents, employee wellbeing and workplace flexibility
• BakerLGBTI & Allies - Lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and intersex diversity
Diversity and inclusion is not only on the agenda but is embraced, fostered and understood.

WHO WE ARE
Clayton Utz is a leading Australian commercial and pro bono law firm, with 178 partners and over 1,200 employees across six offices.

MORE ABOUT US
With a genuine commitment to client service, we are trusted advisers to a diverse base of private and public sector organisations including many of Australia’s top financial institutions, multinational corporations operating in a range of sectors, and State and Australian government departments and agencies.

We are also a global leader in pro bono and community initiatives, with one of the largest pro bono practices of any law firm outside of the US and fantastic opportunities for partners and employees to connect with the community through volunteering activities.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
Clayton Utz employs a diverse selection of people with a wide range of backgrounds, skills, interests and competencies. We look for people who can contribute new ideas and who take a creative approach to solving problems.

We look for people who are:
• Results focused and driven
• Flexible
• Learning-oriented
• Good relationship builders
• Natural leaders

INSIDER INFO
LGBTI Alliance, our LGBTI (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Intersex) program is an essential part of our diversity agenda.

The primary function of LGBTI Alliance is to help the Firm to:
• Foster a LGBTI inclusive culture;
• Support and encourage LGBTI people in the Firm;
• Connect with the broader LGBTI community (through participating in and developing our Pro Bono and Community Connect initiatives); and
• Promote our program and engage with industry and external stakeholders; and develop internal policies, training, education, practices and other services and initiatives to assist the LGBTI program to achieve its objectives.
Clayton Utz’s progress towards building a friendly and inclusive environment for its LGBTI employees has been very impressive. I always enjoyed my role with the firm, but the ability to bring my whole self to work has been a great source of energy and encouragement. I feel fully supported by my team and I am confident that new lawyers and staff will as well no matter who they are.

WHO WE ARE
Corrs Chambers Westgarth is a premium independent commercial law firm. We emphasise the independent part because it’s important to who we are and how we work. It also describes how we think, our innovative style and bold decision-making.

Our vision as a world class law firm is to drive Australia’s competitiveness and economic engagement with Asia. We are based in Australia and operate internationally, wherever our clients need our services. We have a network of independent firms globally who work with us in delivering excellence.

MORE ABOUT US
Corrs has a strong history spanning more than 150 years. We work with our clients as true partners in their business and are consistently recognised for world class services and results. Our clients include more than half the top fifty ASX listed companies, some of the largest privately owned companies in Australia and a number of global Fortune five hundred companies.

Insider Info
We also work with Federal and State governments on significant matters. Helping others is a key aspect of the culture at Corrs – we achieve this through pro bono legal work, volunteering and philanthropy.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
Commencing a career at Corrs is about exactly that – a career, not just a job. We provide an open, friendly culture that helps you thrive both professionally and personally.

At Corrs we want the best people and we want diversity of thought. We don’t look for a Corrs ‘type’ when we interview potential employees. Corrs people like to find new ways of doing things and aren’t afraid to be independent and bold in their actions.

INSIDER INFO
Corrs is made up of all sorts of people and we recognise the value and importance of having a diverse range of individuals contributing to our firm at all levels. We celebrate our diversity, and are strongly committed to nurturing and supporting an inclusive and high performance culture.

Our national Corrs LGBTI group aims to support the inclusion of our LGBTI people and enhance our broader engagement with the LGBTI community. We are also proud members of Pride in Diversity.
Corrs has an open and welcoming atmosphere that is inclusive of both Corrs’ LGBTI people and LGBTI people in the broader LGBTI community.

"Corrs has an open and welcoming atmosphere that is inclusive of both Corrs’ LGBTI people and LGBTI people in the broader LGBTI community. The firm launched its LGBTI@Corrs Network in 2014 across all offices nationally. WHO WE ARE Gadens is a leading, independent Australian law firm with 137 partners and over 1,100 staff throughout Australia, Papua New Guinea and Singapore.

MORE ABOUT US
We are a full services firm and offer a broad spectrum of legal services including: corporate and commercial; property, construction and planning; energy & resources; dispute resolution and litigation; banking and financial services; corporate risk and insurance; employment and safety; insolvency and recoveries; and aged care, not for profit and tax. Our expertise, attitude and accessibility attract many of Australasia’s most successful and innovative organisations. We work with our clients providing solutions across a range of legal work types ranging from highly complex matters to day-to-day transactional legal needs.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
We are looking for talented people who approach their work with passion and who excel at establishing quality relationships with clients and colleagues. We value intellect, collaboration, openness, integrity, respect and excellence. We seek independent, rigorous thinkers.

INSIDER INFO
Gadens recognises the value that diversity brings to both its culture and its ability to provide clients with exceptional service. Our diversity agenda promotes and encourages diversity by focusing on gender, flexibility, disability, culture and background; and LGBTI. Our LGBTI network, OneGadens, aims to support the inclusion of all our LGBTI people and to enhance engagement with our staff, our business and our clients.
I am extremely proud to be part of the Gadens team. A lot of businesses throw around words such as “acceptance” and “diversity”, but Gadens truly embodies these values. People identifying as LGBTI often feel apprehensive starting a new job. My experience at Gadens was different. From my first day, all those years ago, I felt accepted with no need to hide my sexuality. It was a non-issue, I felt the same as everyone else. 18 months ago I got married in New Zealand and my partner in charge was a guest, that’s support.
WHO WE ARE
Proudly an AWEI recognised employer, we are a leading corporate law firm and a key player in the Australian legal market. We provide complex legal commercial solutions to major corporate and government clients across Australia and around the world.

MORE ABOUT US
We have the highest proportion of female partners of any major Australian law firm and are acknowledged as a pioneer in providing pro bono services.

INSIDER INFO
• OUT is our LGBTI group, celebrating diversity for all LGBTI staff, which:
  » Supports the Inner City Legal Centre (ICLC) Foundation, which provides specialist legal services to LGBTI clients in NSW
  » Makes submissions on behalf of the firm to the Australian Workplace Equality Index
  » Offers networking and social events for OUT members, allies and clients

OUT was established in 2012. Sponsored by Partner and Board member, Peter Waters it has broad membership and support across all levels of staff to Partner level.

It’s difficult to imagine a more inclusive and welcoming place to work than Gilbert + Tobin. I was initially attracted to work for Gilbert + Tobin because of its reputation as a diverse and inclusive employer, along with its progressive corporate values. From my personal experience, this reputation is well deserved.

From my first day, I felt totally comfortable and affirmed about being open about my sexuality to all my colleagues. I think this is partly because diversity and inclusion is part of the DNA of Gilbert + Tobin, and always has been. It’s also because our LGBTI support group, “OUT”, provides a real bedrock of support and friendship at Gilbert + Tobin for LGBTI people and their supporters. In my experience, diversity is not merely accepted at Gilbert + Tobin, it is wholly embraced.

Peter Waters
Partner and Board Member

When I was a confused, frightened teenager growing up in a small country town, I never imagined that I could live as an openly gay senior partner in a leading law firm such as G+T: the respect, from others and for myself, which I have now, was something I could never have aspired to back then.
WHO WE ARE
We are an independent Australian commercial law firm comprised of talented lawyers and other professionals. Based in Sydney and Brisbane we provide tailored legal solutions and quality advice both nationally and internationally.

MORE ABOUT US
We are proud to help an impressive list of clients achieve their objectives. Our clients include the Big 4 Australian banks, global investment banks, insolvency and accounting firms, fund managers, property developers, some of Australia’s most iconic businesses, regulatory bodies and government departments and agencies. We know what we’re good at and we know what we love doing, so we focus on that. We don’t try to be all things to all people; forging strong and enduring relationships with our clients is key. This alignment of focus, passion and expertise delivers the best results for our clients, our people and our community.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
The quality of our people is the key to our success and recruiting the right people is a critical part of our strategy. That said, there isn’t an HDY mould or ‘type’; we are looking for bright, motivated, dynamic individuals who can bring their own experiences and perspectives and a respect for those of others to the table.

INSIDER INFO
A commitment to Diversity and Inclusion is a cornerstone of our vision. Leveraging the different talents, potential and perspectives of ALL our people is not only the right thing to do, it enriches our firm culture, the experience for our people working here and the experience our clients have in working with us. We take equality on all platforms seriously and have proudly held the Employer of Choice for Gender Equality citation for many years. We have recently become active and enthusiastic members of Pride in Diversity and took part in the AWEI for the first time this year.

As a partner and board member at HDY, and as a gay man, I’m proud of HDY’s inclusive culture. It’s empowering to be a part of an organisation that embraces diversity in all its forms, and I have always felt comfortable being ‘me’ at this firm. That hasn’t always felt possible for me during my career and I’ve experienced first-hand how challenging it can be when you feel you can’t be completely open with your colleagues. I’m thrilled to say that my fellow partners are as committed as I am to fostering a diverse and dynamic workplace and ensuring that HDY is a place where we can all confidently be who we are.

WHO WE ARE
Herbert Smith Freehills is a leading international law firm, formed from a merger between Australian based Freehills and international firm Herbert Smith. Our clients include many of the world’s largest and most ambitious organisations. We offer them innovative advice and comprehensive support around the world.

MORE ABOUT US
We aim to bring a new perspective to our clients’ businesses, working with them to identify opportunities and manage risk in an uncertain marketplace. We believe technical ability is not enough and that the business of law is fundamentally about human relationships. This means a culture built on creating exceptional working relationships with clients and colleagues.

Herbert Smith Freehills’ work in the community demonstrates the values that bind our business together. We share a long tradition of providing pro bono legal service, which has developed into a broader programme of volunteering and charitable giving. All our lawyers are encouraged to do pro bono work and all staff are encouraged to volunteer and are able to take a day’s volunteer leave each year.

WHO WE ARE LOOKING FOR
We are interested in who you are and the strengths you can bring. Technical excellence is important, but we look for additional qualities. We look for people who are assured, perceptive, ambitious and empathetic.

In March 2015, we celebrated the second anniversary of the Herbert Smith Freehills LGBTI Network. At the event celebrating this occasion, Michael Kirby congratulated us, saying “I pay respects to the firm and I congratulate the LGBTI network on its second anniversary.”

We, in Australia, have always been proud of Freehills as a distinguished and innovative legal practice. I feel so much a part of this inclusive organisation, and proudly wore the HSF t-shirt when we marched as sponsors of the Sydney Mardi Gras. The future looks very bright for us and I’m looking forward to furthering my career as a litigator in this global firm.

WHO WE ARE
Maddocks provides premium legal services to corporations, businesses and governments throughout Australia and internationally. We advise clients across education, government, infrastructure, healthcare, professional services and technology.

MORE ABOUT US
We provide astute, commercial legal services across the public and private sectors. We’re highly regarded for exceptional, practical legal advice that genuinely adds value.

WHO WE ARE LOOKING FOR
Maddocks is a great place to build your career in legal services. We offer our legal and non–legal professionals a broad range of development opportunities to be part of our success. Our people are our greatest asset and we invest heavily in attracting and retaining the best. We value collaboration, knowledge-sharing and high standards of professionalism. We encourage diversity and foster open communication where individuality and personal expression is valued.

INSIDER INFO
As a new-member firm of employer support group Pride in Diversity, our people recognise the importance of LGBTI inclusion and the board, executives and partners of our firm have committed to mapping out a strategy to enable the successful transition to best practice.

At Maddocks, diversity and respect are core values. We acknowledge the importance of diversity and what it brings to our people and clients. To us, diversity means more than gender, age, disability or culture. We are delighted to be on the path toward setting a clear path for ongoing support to our LGBTI employees.

In 2014, Maddocks received citation from the Workplace Gender Equality Agency as an Employer of Choice. This citation marked recognition from the group for the eleventh consecutive year.

Partner and Chairman

I’m Mark Henry, partner and Chairman at Maddocks. I’ve worked at the firm most of my professional life and have been Chairman twice. Identifying as a member of the LGBTI community at a time when it was not as widely visible, I have always been treated respectfully at Maddocks.

It is exciting for me to see the Maddocks’ Diversity and Inclusion Policy being formally implemented as part of our strategy for growth, by ensuring we have an environment which attracts and supports the best people we can to achieve our objectives. We see a culture of openness, diversity, creativity, technical excellence and commitment to each other and the firm as key to our future. Providing formal, strategic planning and support for our LGBTI employees helps to underpin and create such a culture.

I’m proud to recommend Maddocks as a place where everyone is valued for who they are and what they bring to the firm so that they develop personally and professionally, regardless of age, gender, race, culture, sexual orientation, disability or personal circumstance.

Working at Norton Rose Fulbright, I have the complete support of my team and my firm to work hard and achieve the best professional results that I can, while still proudly being myself. One aspect of my workplace that I appreciate is that I am completely comfortable to share the usual stories with my workmates about weekends and holidays spent with my boyfriend.

Being ‘out’ at work has also helped me to meet some terrific mentors at Norton Rose Fulbright. They’ve helped me build my confidence throughout my career and to be part of a diverse working culture where sexuality doesn’t get in the way of success.
The Pride In Practice Annual Conference is geared towards HR Managers, Diversity Managers, Executive LGBTI Sponsors, LGBTI employees, allies and all those interested in the delivery of LGBTI equality and diversity in the workplace.

No other conference in Australia provides such an inspirational mix of leading LGBTI inclusion speakers with practical breakout sessions featuring Leading Employers for LGBTI employees.

With presentations on award winning initiatives, expert interactive panels and high quality networking, this two day conference will give participants the tools they need to stay at the forefront of LGBTI inclusive practice.

WHY NOT JOIN US FOR OUR NEXT CONFERENCE?

For more details visit:
Australian Workplace Equality Index

Many of the employers in this guide participate annually in the Australian Workplace Equality Index. This national benchmark on LGBTI workplace inclusion gives employers the tools to gauge just how inclusive their workplaces are, identifying the areas where they are really succeeding and opportunities for future progress. The Index assists employers in building best practice strategies for developing and sustaining truly inclusive workplaces.

Index participation not only allows employers to contribute to the Australian benchmark but provides them with an external measure and benchmark by which they can measure future progress.

Index participants receive a hard copy of the benchmarking publication, an overall score, section scores, certification of participation and comprehensive survey responses.

All index submissions are strictly confidential.

WHO WE ARE
AGL is one of Australia’s leading energy companies and is Australia’s largest private owner, operator and developer of renewable generation assets. Drawing on more than 175 years of experience, we operate retail and merchant energy businesses, power generation assets and an upstream gas portfolio. AGL is an S&P/ASX 50 company.

MORE ABOUT US
From turning on the first gas street lamp in Sydney in 1841, to providing the Victorian Skipping Girl sign with solar energy in 2012, we’re very proudly one of Australia’s leading energy companies. We’re also proud to be partnering with The Smith Family, St Vincent de Paul Society, Cancer Council and The Burns Trust and will invest over $3 million into the community through these organisations over six years. As at 2014, AGL has one of Australia’s largest retail energy and dual fuel customer bases providing gas and electricity to more than 3.8 million customers across Eastern and Southern Australia.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
The opportunities are broad across our business, which support our combined functions of power generation, gas production and energy retailing. Visit www.agl.com.au/about-agl/careers

INSIDER INFO
At AGL, we are building a workplace culture in which LGBTI employees feel included, able to achieve their potential and contribute to business outcomes. You can expect a workplace culture that is interested in your perspective, your experience and your ideas; where you’ll be supported to achieve your potential.

We offer a genuinely diverse, inclusive, safe and supportive work environment that fosters a culture of achievement and friendship. We live our values, fuelling the good energy that thrives in our teams and inspires our accessible leaders. We are about ‘actions, not words’, which not only drives the way we work together and for our customers, but also how we give back to local communities in meaningful ways.
I joined AGL in 2010 when AGL was just starting to work seriously on Diversity and Inclusion. With a resume that identified my various roles in LGBTI organisations over 20 years, I started as an out lesbian. As an individual I was welcomed into the AGL community but as a lesbian it was more subtle - there was no corporate LGBTI visibility but within my team my difference was acknowledged and accepted.

The encouragement of our more recent work on LGBTI inclusion, from the Board and the Executive Team through to the broader employee group, has been a warm and wonderful experience.

WHO WE ARE
We operate the world’s largest integrated bauxite mining, alumina refining and aluminium smelting system. Alcoa of Australia has been investing in Australia for more than 50 years. The company’s investment to date is greater than $12 billion.

MORE ABOUT US
The Kwinana, Pinjarra and Wagerup refineries in Western Australia produce more than 40% of the feedstock for aluminium smelters and approximately 10% of total world demand. The Alcoa operated Portland Smelter in Victoria produce approximately 25% of Australia’s aluminium.

We are 60% owned by Alcoa Inc. and 40% owned by Alumina Limited.

Each year, more than 75% of total revenue stays in Australia through wages, local purchasing, taxes, capital investment and dividends.

Alcoa invests more than $5 million in community partnerships. Investments are driven by sustainable development and a desire to support reputable not-for-profit and community-based organisations in the locations we operate.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
We employ talented, motivated people who focus on customers, excellence and growth. Our people are the key to our success and we seek enthusiastic individuals who want to make a difference within our business and contribute to our future direction.

INSIDER INFO
Alcoa offers employees an equal opportunity to succeed. We embrace progress, new and diverse ideas, tolerance and respect.

This is why we’ve created Employees at Alcoa for Gay and Lesbian Equality (EAGLE), an active network of LGBTI employees, allies and friends that provides a safe and inclusive work environment.
As a transgender employee at Alcoa, it’s reassuring that I can be myself at work. Coming out has taken a weight off my shoulders. When I initially came out over a decade ago, the reactions from fellow employees were mixed; now attitudes have changed, I’ve found that it is a non-issue.

EAGLE means I no longer feel alone because I have workplace support and acceptance.

WHO WE ARE
GE imagines things others don’t, builds things others can’t and delivers outcomes that make the world work better. GE brings together the physical and digital worlds in ways no other company can. In its labs and factories and on the ground with customers, GE is inventing the next industrial era to move, power, build and cure the world.

MORE ABOUT US
- Aviation - GE engines power more than 70% of domestic jet-powered flights within Australia, and are leaner, cleaner and quieter than ever before.
- Energy Management - As demand for energy grows, GE provides smart equipment and technology to make electrical generation, transmission and consumption safer and more reliable.
- Healthcare - We’re one of Australia’s leading providers of medical technologies and services to clinics and hospitals.
- Lighting - Imagining a better lightbulb has been a part of our business since Thomas Edison’s first incandescent lamp.
- Mining - GE provides smarter, safer equipment for mining customers in Australia.
- Oil and Gas - GE is powering the future of the oil and gas industry: it is at work on every major LNG project being developed in Australia.
- Power and Water - We’re at work on solutions to access clean and sustainable sources of power and water.
- Transportation - GE keeps people and cargo on the move around Australia, and provides smarter, safer equipment for mining customers.
- Capital - We’re helping to build Australia’s Mid-Market businesses with smart financing and specialist insights for growth.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
There’s a spot for you here at GE. We offer job opportunities to everyone, from apprenticeships, to entry level professional positions, university graduates, mid career professionals and veterans.

In 2005 the global Gay, Lesbian, Transgender & Allies Network Launched. Jeremy Wray
Account Manager – Subsea Systems
GE Oil & Gas Australia

I have been with GE in Australia for close to 2 years and have thoroughly enjoyed it. GE has a culture of Diversity and Inclusiveness which has allowed me to be open and honest with my colleagues. Globally, GE has a large GLBTA Alliance and we are about to launch an ANZ Chapter. It has been great to see employees from all over the world sharing their stories openly and to have the support of our Regional and Global CEO’s.

Earlier this year, GE’s Global CEO of over 300,000 employees issued an open letter in the US urging that lawmakers do not permit discrimination of any kind, including discrimination based on sexual orientation or gender identity. This had an incredibly powerful effect and makes me proud to be working for GE.
WHO WE ARE
Accenture is one of the world’s leading organisations providing management consulting, technology and outsourcing services, with more than 323,000 employees across 120 countries.

MORE ABOUT US
Accenture works with clients in a range of industries, and provides services from a portfolio of five distinct businesses:

- Accenture Consulting transforms businesses
- Accenture Strategy shapes our clients’ future
- Accenture Digital digitizes to create new value
- Accenture Technology powers our clients’ businesses
- Accenture Operations operates on behalf of our clients

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
We hire graduates and experienced individuals - talented, potential leaders looking for a challenge and interested in a career with a global leader. We offer a unique career experience and a compelling mix of work and training opportunities, work environment and structure for career progression.

INSIDER INFO
Accenture is a global company offering great careers with fantastic opportunities, open to employees regardless of gender identity or expression, and regardless of sexual orientation. #PrideAtAccenture is all about bringing your authentic self to work. Recognised globally for the Inclusion & Diversity work we do, we topped the AWEI in 2013. We have strong, active networks of LGBTI people and allies across the world, and locally here in Australia/New Zealand.
Enter the corporate world can be a challenge for any graduate. From my first day at Accenture, diversity has been and continues to be emphasised in everything we do – from our core values to our inclusion and diversity activities. Every day I see people fulfilling their potential because they have permission and encouragement to be their true selves – not only is diversity and inclusion good for individuals, it’s good for Accenture.

Not once have I felt less valued or welcome because of my sexuality – the celebration of the LGBTI community at Accenture has helped me grow both professionally and personally. Joining the LGBTI Network was a great opportunity to meet other confident, successful LGBTI-identifying people, and learn even more about what it means to be gay in the workplace and in society today.

Partner, Operational Advisory, Sydney

When I joined Grant Thornton in 2010 I made no secret about who and what I was.

The firm has always encouraged me to bring my whole self to work. Doing so has meant I can focus my energies on providing the best possible client support and advice rather than worrying about how I might be perceived. I’ve been given tremendous opportunities to build my career, safe in the knowledge that I’ll be judged on my results rather than my LGBTI status. Knowing this means I can focus on what really matters in life, devoting my energies to my ideas, thoughts and initiatives and not wasting time and energy worrying about what other people think or whether I feel included or excluded at work.

Having more openly gay leaders such as me provides positive role models for younger LGBTI people both within and beyond my work and I’m fortunate to be part of a firm that encourages me to be a role model.

Senior Consultant, Health, Ageing & Human Services

I was only 16 years old when I signed my contract at KPMG in Perth and 17 years old when I started working in 2009.

Since then, I have only encountered openness and acceptance. More than that, I have been able to engage in driving a focus on diversity and inclusion within the firm.

While there is always room to improve the culture of an organisation, I feel encouraged to work in an organisation where it is a clear focus.

WHO WE ARE
At Lendlease, our vision is to create the best places. Our capabilities span the property construction and infrastructure spectrum. In Australia we offer: development management and construction, asset and property management.

MORE ABOUT US
Over 50 years of experience has taken us from Australia to Asia, Europe and the Americas. We manage an extensive portfolio of assets. Over a million people around the work live, work shop or are connected through an asset we have created, every single day.

We create innovative and sustainable property solutions, going beyond just maximising value, to forging partnerships and delivering benefits to clients, investors and communities.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
To be the leading international property and infrastructure group we need a culture that embraces and respects difference. Lendlease is committed to sustaining a diverse and inclusive workplace, where people can bring their whole selves to work, and where we attract, retain and enable the most talented people to perform. Whether you’re a graduate or a seasoned professional, we invite you to explore the opportunity to create your future with us.

INSIDER INFO
We believe diversity of experience, diversity of thought and a collaborative environment leads to innovation. Through Lendlease’s diversity and inclusion strategy, an LGBTI Employee Resource Group (ERG) has been in place since 2009, with both LGBTI members and allies welcome. This group raises awareness of LGBTI issues and provides advice and support to the organisation.

Lendlease has been an AWEI Top Ten Employer since 2012 and the only construction company involved in the index. We were also awarded the Australian Human Resources Institute LGBTI Inclusion Award in 2014, acknowledging the workplace initiatives we undertake to ensure our LGBTI employees are included, valued and are able to be themselves.

Lendlease is a founding member of Pride in Diversity, and is a proud supporter of Twenty 10 incorporating the Gay & Lesbian Counselling Service (GLCS) in Sydney.

It is a place that truly cares about its people and invests in their development...

Lendlease is a diverse and inclusive business, both in the geographies and sectors it operates in and more importantly the people it employs. I have always felt comfortable talking about my life and my family and I value being able to bring my whole self to work.

Lendlease has offered me a career path with learning opportunities, international travel and exposure to different aspects of the property and construction sector.

It is a place that truly cares about its people and invests in their development and I would recommend working here as diversity is not just tolerated, it is celebrated.
The services below come under the umbrella of “ycentral” and work with children, young people and families who are experiencing a range of mental health issues. This can be at the early stage of mental health issues or those with acute mental health issues. The headspace service receives on average 120 new referrals per month and Children and Young People’s Mental Health receive on average 5 new referrals a day.

WHO WE ARE
We are a team of over 70 staff including mental health nurses, GP’s, psychologists, social workers, occupational therapists, psychiatrists and reception staff.

WHAT WE DO
ycentral’s services help thousands of young Australians get their life back on track. We assist teenagers and young adults with problems like depression, anxiety, bullying, alcohol and other drug related issues. We are a free one-stop shop for young people 12-25 years, offering early intervention with an emphasis on mental health and well-being, providing access to a range of health services. We triage, access and refer to the most appropriate service in our network.

MORE ABOUT US
We are committed to diversity and social inclusion. Applications are encouraged from those who identify as LGBTI. We offer employment opportunities and amazing experiences. We provide ongoing quality supervision, a modern and creative work environment, competitive salary packaging, and the opportunity to work with a dynamic team who support and mentor.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
ycentral is an Equal Opportunity Employer which values diversity and inclusion. We are looking for enthusiastic, passionate and flexible people who share our values and have experience in engaging with young people 12-25 years in a variety of areas.

INSIDER INFO
Our primary focus is the mental health and wellbeing of all Australians. We know that getting help early is the key to resolving these problems quickly. In cooperation with our network providers, we are making a real difference where it is needed most - our young people.

Members of the CCMH Pride In Diversity Committee

CYPMH have made significant ground since we joined with Pride in Diversity in 2012. The service was ranked 16th in the 2014 AWEI and we achieved our silver tier employee award and won Regional Employer of the year in 2015.

The service has been instrumental in engaging the broader Central Coast Mental Health (CCMH) Service in LGBTI inclusion initiatives. This has included the development of a CCMH Pride In Diversity Strategic Committee, with representation from CYPMH, adult mental health and older persons mental health. The Committee develops a bi-annual Strategic Plan to guide and inform our work in the inclusion space. Additionally a larger Allies network has also been established across CCMH. The roles and functions of this group may include correcting destructive myths, negative stereotypes and calling inappropriate behaviour; increasing visibility and promoting self and the role of Ally throughout the CCMH; being a champion for Pride in Diversity in team meetings and promoting self as a point of contact and support for CCMH employees wanting to come out in the workplace.

CCMH has a service wide diversity statement which is instrumental in driving awareness about LGBTI inclusion. The abridged version of the Diversity Statement is:

‘CCMHS is committed to diversity and social inclusion. This includes Indigenous Australians, people who identify as LGBTI, people of all ages, people with a disability and those from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds.’
WHO WE ARE
The NSW Police Force (NSWPF) works with the community to reduce violence, crime and fear. There are currently 432 police stations located in Local Area Commands under six regions across the state. There are also specialist roles within 11 Specialist Commands.

MORE ABOUT US
The NSWPF serves approximately one third of Australia’s population to provide a safe and secure NSW. We currently employ 20,639 people: 16,713 police officers and 3,926 civilians. Our police respond to crime, emergencies and other calls for assistance. General duties police are your local police, working with detectives and highway patrol to provide a comprehensive, professional, community-based policing service. In addition, there are over 100 specialist roles undertaken by police and civilian staff including Rescue and Bomb Disposal, Public Order Riot Squad, Mounted Police, Forensic Services and Counter Terrorism.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
The NSWPF actively recruits a diverse workforce embracing the principle that a large and diverse community is best served by similar diversity, skills and experiences in the people recruited. Recruitment, selection and training are conducted through a collaborative arrangement with Charles Sturt University. The Associate Degree in Policing Practice focuses on foundational studies, applied skills and knowledge necessary for the modern police professional. The NSWPF is committed to implementing a number of workplace diversity strategies including Equal Employment Opportunities and a commitment to multiculturalism, through a Multicultural Policies and Services Program.

INSIDER INFO
The NSWPF first implemented a Gay and Lesbian Liaison Officer (GLLO) program in 1990, and has since grown from four inner city GLLOs to 200 GLLOs across the state. We are currently celebrating 25 years of GLLO-ing as well as 100 years of women in the NSWPF and look forward to continuing to support diversity and inclusion in our workplace. There is a long standing corporate commitment since 1997 (our first policy) to our current policy, formally acknowledging and supporting LGBTI people and communities. We also have a range of liaison officer roles for other diverse groups within the community, including Multicultural Community Liaison Officers and Aboriginal Community Liaison Officers.

Part of the reason I joined the NSW Police Force was because of its Gay & Lesbian Liaison Officer program, and support for the LGBTI community. I am proud to be a member of the NSW Police Force, long-standing GLLO and gay.
WHO WE ARE
At Transport for New South Wales we place the customer at the centre of everything we do. Our vision is to build and maintain a transport system that maximises benefits for the community and the economy.

MORE ABOUT US
We have a unique and unprecedented opportunity to create a better transport system, one that is fundamentally designed around the needs and expectations of customers, communities and the economy.

Public Transport Agencies include the Roads and Maritime Services, Sydney Trains, NSW Trains (formerly RailCorp) and the State Transit Authority. The Private Transport Operators include Private Ferry operators and Private Bus operators.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
We provide fascinating and challenging positions, including engineering, marketing, and project management to train and bus drivers and various customer service positions.

This is an exciting time to join us as we are making improvements and developing major plans and projects to deliver a world class transport system for NSW.

INSIDER INFO
We value workplace diversity and are committed to ensuring that every job applicant and employee is treated fairly, and that their unique experiences and personal characteristics are valued and leveraged in order to contribute to the success of the business.

Our vision is to be a leader in creating and sustaining a high performing workforce by leveraging diversity and empowering employees to achieve superior results through an inclusive work environment. This is led by the Diversity and Inclusion Team who can be contacted at diversityandinclusion@transport.nsw.gov.au

We are committed to protecting and promoting employment equity for our lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and intersex employees. Our LGBTI Employee Resource Group (ERG) provides a forum for LGBTI employees to offer advice on how the Transport Cluster can create and promote the development of a work culture supportive of diverse groups and to help identify barriers relating to employment inclusion and equity.

Amber Taylor
Data Analyst NSW Trains and Transport for NSW

My name is Amber. I have been an employee of NSW Trains (CountryLink) for the last 10 years - initially in the Newcastle Call Centre and for the last year as the data analyst for Sales and Marketing.

I’m a transsexual woman and started transitioning 3 years ago when I realised I was trans.

Management and my colleagues were more than 100% supportive and excited by my journey.

My trans “status” made zero difference to the level of respect I’ve received and continue to receive each day as I strive for excellence in my work.

My managers made every effort and more to help all the staff I worked with understand what it meant to be “trans” to facilitate inclusion and create a workplace that was peaceful for everyone.

NSW Trains is a beautifully inclusive company to work for who pride themselves in their excitement of diversity and rightly so.
WHO WE ARE
VicRoads plans, develops and manages the arterial road network and delivers road safety initiatives and customer focused registration and licensing services.

MORE ABOUT US

WHO WE ARE
At the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation (CSIRO), we shape the future. We do this by using science to solve real issues. Our research makes a difference to people, industry and the planet.

MORE ABOUT US
We’re Australia’s leading multidisciplinary research organisation, with more than 5000 talented people working out of 55 centres in Australia and internationally. We play a vital role in enhancing collaboration within the Australian national innovation system, and as a trusted advisor to government, industry and the community.

WHO WE’RE LOOKING FOR
CSIRO recruits approximately 550 new staff each year in a variety of science, engineering and support roles. Most roles require qualifications at bachelor degree level, many require postgraduate qualifications.

Post Doctoral research fellows form a significant subset of our new recruit cohort each year. Additionally, CSIRO offers hundreds of post graduate studentships each year as well as traineeships and cadetships for Indigenous Australians.

INSIDER INFO
We have a new and growing LGBTI network. We support staff to be themselves in the workplace and have an advisory role in ensuring CSIRO policies are inclusive. CSIRO’s 2015-20 strategy promotes inclusion and diversity as a key driver of innovation.

Andy Miller
Since starting in the Telstra Graduate Program, I’ve been blown away by the professional opportunities and supportive work environment. Telstra leverages our diversity to continuously innovate, and it’s only through actively embracing difference that we are able to collaborate together – everyone respects each other. Telstra’s active involvement with Midsumma demonstrated the genuine commitment to, and support for its LGBTI staff members, and it made me feel proud to represent them at such an important community event.

Rebecca Huntly
Telstra has provided me a wonderfully diverse career over the years; and through its cultural diversity it has embraced me as part of the LGBTI community. I felt comfortable to be myself and am still amazed that when I joined Telstra 14 years ago I came out at work before I did with my family!
Pride in Diversity

WHO WE ARE

Pride in Diversity is Australia’s first and only not-for-profit national employer support program designed specifically to assist Australian employers with the inclusion of lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and intersex (LGBTI) employees.

Pride in Diversity works with a wide range of employers across all states and in some cases, the Asia Pacific region.

This work includes:
- Ongoing support in all areas of LGBTI workplace inclusion.
- Provision of training / awareness programs.
- Roundtable discussions across a broad range of member organisations to discuss workplace roadblocks, challenges, successes and best practice.
- Initiation of HR audits to ensure inclusivity across policies and benefits.
- Cultural change programs through the establishment of LGBTI employee networks, communications and executive leadership/support.

All employers featured within this guide are actively working with us and, while some may not put their hands up as leaders in this area just yet, they are working hard to create inclusive workplaces for LGBTI employees.

For more information on how we support our member organisations, please visit: prideindiversity.com.au/member-benefits/

Pride in Diversity also publishes the Australian Workplace Equality Index (AWEI). This national benchmark on LGBTI workplace inclusivity allows employers to measure how well they are doing in this area and provides strong support for strategy implementation. This is a free service offered by Pride in Diversity and is not limited to member organisations. All employers active (or just starting) in LGBTI inclusion are encouraged to participate. The index also incorporates Australia’s largest employee survey on LGBTI inclusion. The index provides the basis of the AWEI Employer Awards incorporating Top 20 Employers in addition to awards for network groups, executive leadership, diversity champions, most improved and small employers. Awards are held on International Day against Homophobia and Transphobia each year.
